

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

HENDRIK BLOCK,

Plaintiff,

V.

CALIFORNIA-FRESNO INVESTMENT
COMPANY, et al.

Defendants.

Case No. 1:22-cv-1419 JLT SAB

ORDER ADOPTING IN PART THE FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS,
GRANTING IN PART PLAINTIFF'S
MOTION FOR DEFAULT JUDGMENT,
DISMISSING PLAINTIFF'S STATE LAW
CLAIMS WITHOUT PREJUDICE, AND DIRECTING THE CLERK OF COURT TO CLOSE THE CASE

(Docs. 24, 30)

Hendrik Block seeks default judgment against California-Fresno Investment Company, doing business as Bad Buds Gas & Car Wash, for violating Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act and California's Unruh Civil Rights Act. (See Doc. 1.) For the reasons set forth below, the motion for default judgment is granted in part. The Court finds default judgment is appropriate for the claim arising under the ADA but declines to exercise supplemental jurisdiction and dismisses claims arising under state law without prejudice.

I. Relevant Background

Block reports he “is substantially limited in his ability to walk, and must use a cane, walker, wheelchair or electric scooter for mobility.” (Doc. 1 at 2, ¶ 8.) He asserts that he visited Bad Buds Gas and Car Wash to purchase snacks on May 21, 2022. (Id., ¶ 10.) Block alleges he “personally encountered barriers (both physical and intangible)” at Bad Buds that interfered with

1 his ability to use and enjoy the services at the facility. (Id. at 2, ¶ 10.) Specifically, Block asserts
 2 that “[i]t was difficult … to locate the designated accessible parking” in the parking lot, “as it was
 3 missing signage and had faded pavement markings that were barely visible.” (Id. at 3, ¶ 10(a).)
 4 In addition, Block contends that after parking in the designated spot, “he could not find an 5 accessible route to the Facility entrance,” because there was not a curb ramp between the parking
 6 spot and the walkway. (Id., ¶ 10(b).) Block reports he used his wheelchair when visiting Bad
 7 Buds, and as a result “he could not ascend the curb and had to travel through the vehicular to get 8 to the … entrance.” (Id.)

9 Block reports he is a resident of California and “regularly travels to the area” where Bad
 10 Buds is located. (Doc. 1 at 2, ¶ 10.) Block asserts that he “was, and continues to be, deterred
 11 from visiting” Bad Buds because he knows the “goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, 12 and accommodations were and are unavailable to [him] due to [his] physical disabilities.” (Id. at 13 3, ¶ 12.) According to Block, he will return to Bad Buds “once the barriers are removed” because 14 he “enjoys the goods and services offered.” (Id.)

15 On November 3, 2022, Block initiated this action by filing a complaint against California-
 16 Fresno Investment Company, dba Bad Buds Gas & Car Wash, alleging: (1) violations of Title III
 17 of the Americans with Disabilities Act, (2) violations of California’s Unruh Act, and (3) denial of 18 full and equal access to public facilities under California’s Health and Safety Code.<sup>1</sup> (Doc. 1 at 4-19 9.) Block asserted the defendant “possessed and enjoyed sufficient control and authority” to 20 remove the barriers to wheelchair access and be sure Bad Buds complied with the 1991 ADA
 21 Accessibility Guidelines and/or the 2010 ADA Standards for Accessible Design. (Id. at 4, ¶ 14.)
 22 In addition, Block contends the defendant has “the financial resources to remove the[] barriers …
 23 without much difficulty or expense[], and make the Facility accessible.” (Id. at 3, ¶ 13.)

24 Block served CFIC with the summons and complaint on May 11, 2023.<sup>2</sup> (Doc. 18.) After

26 <sup>1</sup> Block also raised these claims against Cedar Plaza, Inc. in the complaint. (See generally Doc. 1.) However, Block
 27 dismissed Cedar Plaza as a defendant pursuant to Rule 41 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. (Doc. 21.)
 Accordingly, only CFIC remains as a defendant.

28 <sup>2</sup> The Court determined the prior service upon was inadequate and granted Block an extension of time to complete service upon CFIC. (Docs. 11, 16, and 17.)

1 CFIC failed to respond to the complaint, Block requested default be entered against CFIC. (Doc.
2 19.) The Clerk of Court entered default on June 30, 2023. (Doc. 20.) Block now seeks default
3 judgment against CFIC, requesting injunctive and declaratory relief, statutory damages under the 4 Unruh Act, attorneys' fees, and costs.<sup>3</sup> (Doc. 24.)

5 II. Findings and Recommendations

6 As an initial matter, the magistrate judge determined the Court has original jurisdiction
7 over the action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331, based upon Block's claim for violations of the 8 ADA. (Doc. 30 at 7.) In addition, the magistrate judge noted that "the Court may exert 9 supplemental jurisdiction, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1337, over [the] related state law claims under 10 the Unruh Act, California Civil Code §§ 51, et seq." (Id.)

11 The magistrate judge evaluated the factors set forth by the Ninth Circuit in Eitel v.
12 McCool, 782 F.2d 1470, 1472 (9th Cir. 1986), and found the factors weighed in favor of granting 13 the motion for default judgment. (Doc. 30.) Specifically, the magistrate judge found default
14 judgment was appropriate for Block's claim arising under the ADA, and recommended the 15 requested injunctive relief be granted. (Id. at 12-17.) The magistrate judge also found default
16 judgment was appropriate for the claim arising under the Unruh Act, and recommended awarding
17 statutory damages in the amount of $4,000.00. (Id. at 17-18.) Finally, the magistrate judge
18 recommended Block be awarded attorneys' fees in the modified amount of $933.50 and litigation
19 expenses and costs in the amount of $716.63, for a total of $1,650.13. (Id. at 23-31.)

20 The Findings and Recommendations were served on Plaintiff, who mailed a copy to 21 Defendant. (Doc. 31.) The Court informed the parties that any objections must be filed within 22 14 days of the date of service. (Doc. 30 at 32.) In addition, the Court advised the parties that 23 "the failure to file objections within the specified time may result in the waiver of rights on 24 appeal." (Id. at 32-33, citing Wilkerson v. Wheeler, 772 F.3d 834, 838-39 (9th Cir. 2014), Baxter
25 v. Sullivan, 923 F.2d 1391, 1394 (9th Cir. 1991).) No objections were filed, and the time to do 26 so expired.

27
28

<sup>3</sup> Block did not seek default judgment over his claim arising under the California Health and Safety Code.

III. Supplemental Jurisdiction

2 While noting the Court could take supplemental jurisdiction, the magistrate judge did not
3 make any findings as to whether the Court should exercise jurisdiction over Block's claims
4 arising under state law. As the magistrate judge observed, a court that has original jurisdiction
5 over a civil action "shall have supplemental jurisdiction over all other claims that are so related to 6 claims in the action within such original jurisdiction that they form part of the same case or 7 controversy under Article III of the United States Constitution." 28 U.S.C. § 1337(a). State
8 claims are part of the same case or controversy as federal claims "when they derive from a 9 common nucleus of operative fact and are such that a plaintiff would ordinarily be expected to try
10 them in one judicial proceeding." Kuba v. 1-A Agric. Assoc., 387 F.3d 850, 855-56 (9th Cir. 2004)
11 (internal quotation marks, citation omitted). Notably, the Ninth Circuit concluded ADA and 12 Unruh Act claims that derive from a common nucleus of facts "form part of the 'same case or 13 controversy/ for purposes of § 1337(a)." Arroyo v. Rosas, 19 F.4th 1202, 1209 (9th Cir. 2021).

14       Supplemental jurisdiction “is a doctrine of discretion, not of plaintiff’s right” and district
15      courts “can decline to exercise jurisdiction over pendent claims for a number of valid reasons.”
16      City of Chicago v. Int’l College of Surgeons, 522 U.S. 156, 172 (1997) (internal quotation marks, 17      citations omitted). This discretion is codified under Section 1337(c), which provides a district 18      court may “decline supplemental jurisdiction over a claim” if:

(1) the claim raises a novel or complex issue of State law, (2) the claim substantially predominates over the claim or claims over which the district court has original jurisdiction, (3) the district court has dismissed all claims over which it has original jurisdiction, or (4) in exceptional circumstances, there are other compelling reasons for declining jurisdiction.

23 28 U.S.C. § 1367(c). This provision is “a codification of the principles of economy, convenience,
24 fairness, and comity that underlie the Supreme Court’s earlier jurisprudence concerning pendent 25 jurisdiction.” Whitaker v. Mac, 411 F.Supp.3d 1108, 1113 (C.D. Cal. 2019) (citing Int'l Coll. of 26 Surgeons, 522 U.S. at 172-73; see also United Mine Workers v. Gibbs, 383 U.S. 715, 726 (1966) 27 (identifying the following as relevant factors: judicial economy, convenience, fairness, and 28 comity, which together are the “Gibbs values”).

1           The Ninth Circuit does not require an “explanation for a district court’s reasons [for 2 declining supplemental jurisdiction] when the district court acts under the first three provisions.”
 3 San Pedro Hotel Co. v. City of Los Angeles, 159 F.3d 470, 478 (9th Cir. 1998). However, the 4 Court is required to identify why circumstances may be “exceptional” when declining jurisdiction
 5 under Section 1367(c)(4). Arroyo v. Rosas, 19 F.4th 1202, 1210 (9th Cir. 2021). “A district
 6 court’s decision to decline supplemental jurisdiction over a state-law claim is reviewed for abuse
 7 of discretion.” Vo v. Choi, 49 F.4th 1167, 1171-72 (9th Cir. 2022).

8           A.       Jurisdiction under Section 1367(c)(4)

9           A court’s inquiry as to whether decline jurisdiction under Section 1367(c)(4) involves a 10 two-part inquiry. Arroyo, 19 F.4th at 1210. First, the Court must identify “why the circumstances 11 of the case are exceptional within the meaning of § 1367(c)(4).” Id. (citation omitted); see also 12 San Pedro Hotel, 159 F.3d at 478-79. Second, to evaluate if “there are ‘compelling reasons for 13 declining jurisdiction’ in a given case, the court should consider what ‘best serves the principles
 14 of economy, convenience, fairness, and comity which underlie the pendent jurisdiction doctrine’
 15 articulated in Gibbs.” Arroyo, 19 F.4th at 1210 (citing Int'l Coll. of Surgeons, 522 U.S. at 172-73).
 16 These “inquiries are not particularly burdensome.” Id. (citation omitted.)

17           1.        Exceptional circumstances

18           Significantly, “California adopted heightened pleading requirements for Unruh Act 19 accessibility claims in an attempt to deter baseless claims and vexatious litigation” in 2012.
 20 Machowski v. Auburndale Props., 574 F.Supp.3d 776, 779 (C.D. Cal. 2021); see also Vo, 49
 21 F.4th at 1170 (noting the state “imposed heightened pleading requirements” following the abuse 22 of remedies under the Unruh Act). The state adopted further restrictions in 2015, after the 23 heightened pleading requirements alone “did not substantially reduce vexatious filings.” Id.
 24 (citing Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 425.50). The state targeted “high-frequency litigants,” which were 25 defined as plaintiffs who “filed 10 or more complaints alleging a construction-related 26 accessibility violation within the 12-month period immediately preceding the filing of the current 27 complaint alleging a construction-related accessibility violation.” Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §
 28 425.55(b)(1). The Court’s review of its records indicates that Block would be subject to the

1 heightened pleading and procedural standards that now apply to the high-frequency litigants.<sup>4</sup>

2 Under California law, high-frequency litigants—such as Block—are now required to 3 comply with the following requirements:

4 (1) the complaint must allege whether it is filed by or on behalf of a
5 high-frequency litigator; (2) the number of complaints alleging a 6 construction related accessibility claim that were filed by the high 7 frequency litigator in the past twelve months; (3) the reason the high frequency litigator was in the region of the defendant’s business; and 7 (4) the specific reason that the high frequency litigator desired access to the defendant’s business.

8 Machowski, 574 F.Supp.3d at 779 (citation omitted, modifications adopted); see also Cal. Civ.
9 Proc. Code § 425.50(a)(4)(A)). The high-frequency litigants must also pay an additional $1,000
10 filing fee. Cal. Gov’t. Code § 70616.5(a), (b). Importantly, these additional requirements apply 11 only in the state court, and “plaintiffs can circumvent the restrictions on high-frequency litigants
12 by filing their complaints in federal court, asserting federal question jurisdiction over the ADA
13 claim and supplemental jurisdiction over the state-law claims.” Shayler v. 1310 PCH, LLC, 51
14 F.4th 1015, 1018 (9th Cir. 2022) (citing Arroyo, 19 F.4th at 1207); see also Vo, 49 F.4th at 1170
15 (“we assume ... these new requirements apply only in California state court”).

16 The Ninth Circuit—and district courts within the circuit—have recognized an increase in 17 disability access claims brought in federal court by the “high-frequency litigants” who would be 18 subject to the additional requirements before the state. See, e.g., Arroyo, 19 F.4th at 1211;
19 Shayler, 51 F.4th at 1017-18 (observing that in the Central District alone, “the number of ADA 20 cases has ballooned from 3 percent of its civil docket to roughly 20 percent in recent years”); 21 Gilbert v. Bonfare Markets, Inc., 2023 WL 1803398, at *4 (E.D. Cal. Feb. 7, 2023) (noting “the 22 burden the ever-increasing number of [accessibility] cases poses to the federal courts”); Arroyo v.
23 Quach, Inc., 2022 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 73567, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 12, 2022) (“California federal

24 <sup>4</sup> Based upon the Court’s review of its records, Block filed 10 other disability access actions prior to this case in the 25 Fresno Division of the Eastern District within 12 months, including: Block v. Narwal, Case No. 1:22-cv-597-ADA-
26 EPG (filed May 19, 2022); Block v. Cortez, Case No. 1:22-cv-00908-JLT-SAB (filed July 21, 2022); *Block v. Tractor
Supply Company*, Case No. 1:22-cv-01006-ADA-EPG (filed Aug. 11, 2022); Block v. Kumar, 1:22-cv-01048-NODJ-
27 BAM (filed Aug. 19, 2022); Block v. Big 5 Corp., 1:22-cv-01104-ADA-BAM (filed Aug. 31, 2022); *Block v. Dieter
H. Dubberke, Inc.*, Case No. 1:22-cv-01241-HBK (filed Sept. 28, 2022); Block v. Brar, Case No. 1:22-cv-01317-
28 ADA-SAB (filed Oct. 14, 2022); Block v. Pal Brothers LLC, Case No. 1:22-cv-01394-SAB (filed Oct. 28, 2022);
Block v. Home Depot U.S.A., Inc., Case No. 1:22-cv-01396-ADA-HBK (filed Oct. 28, 2022); and *Block v. Smart
Place Inc.*, Case No. 1:22-cv-01417-ADA-BAM (filed Nov. 3, 2022).

1 courts have experienced a large influx of cases involving a federal claim under the ADA for 2 failure to ensure that businesses are accessible to customers with disabilities, alongside a state-
 3 law claim under the Unruh Act”). The Ninth Circuit attributed this increase to Unruh Act
 4 plaintiffs who sought to avoid the California requirements, “by filing in a federal forum in which 5 [they] can claim these state law damages in a manner inconsistent with the state law’s
 6 requirements.” Arroyo, 19 F.4th at 1211. As a result, the Ninth Circuit opined “the procedural 7 strictures that California put in place have been rendered largely toothless...” Id.

8 Having acknowledged the apparent avoidance by litigants who pursue their state claims in 9 federal courts, the Ninth Circuit had “little difficulty” reaching the conclusion that “the legal 10 landscape” concerning Unruh Act cases constitutes an exceptional circumstance within the 11 meaning of Section 1367(c)(4). Vo, 49 F.4th at 1169 (citing Arroyo, 19 F.4th at 1214). Thus,
 12 numerous district courts in California “have declined to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over 13 Unruh Act ... claims brought alongside ADA claims.” Rutherford v. Nuway Ins. Agency Inc., 14 2021 WL 4572008, at *1 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 1, 2021).

15 2. Compelling reasons to decline jurisdiction

16 The Court finds the Gibbs values of judicial economy and convenience weigh in favor of 17 declining supplemental jurisdiction. Although the Court addressed the merits of the ADA claim 18 to the extent necessary to address the motion for default judgment, it has not been required to 19 expend a significant amount of time and resources on the action as the claims were uncontested.
 20 See Whitaker v. Eye Phone City, 2020 WL 7065831, at *3 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 7 2020) (finding 21 judicial economy did not weigh in favor of supplemental jurisdiction where the parties had not yet
 22 engaged in discovery); see also Brooke v. Shelby Hosp. LLC., 2023 WL 5017996, at *2-3 (C.D.
 23 Cal. July 24, 2023) (declining supplemental jurisdiction and dismissing the state law claims when 24 addressing a motion for default judgment brought by a high-frequency litigant, finding any 25 concerns of judicial economy were outweighed by concerns of comity). Moreover, any 26 inefficiencies created by the Court’s decision to decline supplemental jurisdiction “are problems 27 ultimately that resulted from [the] plaintiff’s decision to file this [a]ction in federal, rather than 28 state court.” See Whitaker v. Aftaliion, 2020 WL 5845724, at *4 (C.D. Cal. July 23, 2020).

1 Fairness also weighs in favor of declining supplemental jurisdiction over the Unruh Act
2 claim. Block has not been prevented from receiving injunctive relief to remove the encountered
3 accessibility barriers —the only relief available—under his ADA claim before the federal court.
4 On the other hand, it would be unfair to permit Block to evade the limitations California imposed
5 on his accessibility claims. See Carter v. Town Square M Props., LLC, 2022 WL 17224720, at 6 *5 (C.D. Cal Aug. 29, 2022) (finding fairness weighed in favor of declining jurisdiction).

7 Finally, comity weighs in favor of declining jurisdiction, particularly in light of the state’s 8 efforts to thwart abuse of the legal system through the filing of unverified disability access
9 claims. See, e.g., Marquez v. KBMS Hospitality Corp., 492 F. Supp. 3d 1058, 1064 (C.D. Cal.
10 2020) (“To allow federal courts to become an escape hatch that allows high-frequency litigants to 11 pursue such claims without satisfying California’s requirements is an affront to the comity
12 between federal and state courts”); Garcia v. Maciel, 2022 WL 395316, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 9, 13 2022) (comity weighed in favor of declining supplemental jurisdiction, because allowing the 14 plaintiff to proceed before the district court would permit evasion of requirements imposed by the 15 California legislature); Schutza v. Alessio Leasing, Inc., 2019 WL 1546950, at *4 (S.D. Cal. Apr.
16 8, 2019) (“By being ‘inefficient’ and declining to exercise supplemental jurisdiction ..., this 17 Court is simply recognizing that California has a strong interest in interpreting and enforcing its 18 own rules without federal courts serving as a convenient end-around for creative litigants. If that 19 results in occasional inefficiency, it’s a worthwhile tradeoff.”).

20 IV. Conclusion and Order

21 According to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(C), the Court performed a de novo review of this 22 case. Having carefully reviewed the entire matter, the Court concludes the Findings and 23 Recommendations are supported by the record and by proper analysis related to Block’s claim
24 under the ADA, and Block is entitled to receive the injunctive relief requested. An award of 25 attorneys’ fees and costs is also appropriate, subject to the recommended reductions. However, as 26 described above, there are “exceptional circumstances” and “compelling reasons” to decline
27 supplemental jurisdiction over Block’s claims for violations of the Unruh Act and California
28 Health & Safety Code. Accordingly, the Court declines to adopt the recommendations related to

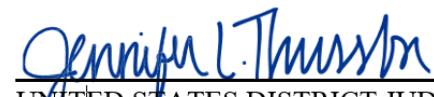

1 the claims arising under state law and exercises its discretion to decline supplemental jurisdiction.

2 Based upon the foregoing, the Court ORDERS:

- 3 1. The Findings and Recommendations filed on November 9, 2023 (Doc. 30) are 4 ADOPTED in part.
- 5 2. The Court DECLINES to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over Plaintiff's 6 claims arising under state law pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1337(c)(4).
- 7 3. Plaintiff's claims for violations of the Unruh Act and the California Health &
8 Safety Code are DISMISSED without prejudice.
- 9 4. Plaintiff's motion for default judgment (Doc. 24) is GRANTED IN PART.
- 10 5. Judgment SHALL be entered in favor of Plaintiff and against Defendant.
- 11 6. Plaintiff's request for statutory damages under California's Unruh Act is DENIED.
- 12 7. Plaintiff's request for fees, costs, and expenses is GRANTED IN PART, in the 13 modified amount of $1,650.13.
- 14 8. Plaintiff's request for injunctive relief under the ADA is GRANTED.
- 15 9. Defendant SHALL make modifications within six months to the facility known as 16 "Bad Buds Gas and Car Wash," located at 6777 North Cedar Avenue in Fresno,
17 California 93710, to bring the property into compliance with the accessibility
18 requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act as follows:
  - 19 a. Provide a properly configured and identified accessible parking stall with 20 adjacent access aisle; and
  - 21 b. Provide a properly configured curb accessible route of travel from the 22 designated accessible parking to the Facility entrance.
- 23 10. The Clerk of Court shall terminate any pending motions and close this case.
